Good Morning,

My name is Kim I. Plyler I'm a contractor for the Department of the Navy. I work in the DONCIO office. On September 11, 2001 I was heading to the Pentagon for a 10 am meeting to discuss Public Affairs information for the Department of the Navy Smart Card Office. I arrived in the parking lot 9:25 am. I was sitting in my car listening to the radio broadcast about the World Trade Centers. I got out of the car and started to walk towards the Pentagon when I hear a loud snapping noise. It sounded a lot like a line snap aboard a navy ship. I looked up and saw the American Airlines plane flying very low and very close to the pentagon. Within seconds it was hitting the pentagon. I did see "humans" in the back of the plane. I wasn't able to make out any faces, but I could see shapes of people. Once it hit the pentagon smoke filled the area, I ran back to my car and departed....quickly. (I'm seven months pregnant and felt bad that I didn't stay to help but frankly I was scared to death.)
