TROUBLE REPORTS

4-4198

Date

Station

Remarks

8/13/18 Pensacola.

On return to the beach after a flight the right lower engine panel was observed to have the cloth wrinkled indicating slack drift wires. Investigation of the condition showed that the compression rid at the outboard end of the engine section was inadequate to take the landing thrust imposed, and that it had buckled causing slackness. Recommended that this plane be repaired locally.
