1st Naval Construction Regiment [Reserve]
"The Big One"

The First Naval Construction Regiment is located in Port Hueneme, California. It exercises command and control over subordinate NCF units. During peacetime these are NMCB-17, NMCB-18, NCFSU-2, CBMU-303, CBU-416, and NMCB-40's Augment unit.

The FIRST NCR was first authorized in July 1967 to exercise operational control and assist its subordinate units in achieving their mission. At the time of commissioning, FIRST NCR was located Armed Forces Reserve Center, Los Alamitos, California until moving to its present location of Port Hueneme, California in September 1994.
