SEPTEMBER 2019 EVENTS

September 12, 11 A.M.-1 P.M.
Sailor in a Box
National Museum of the United States Navy
Building 76, Washington Navy Yard, DC
Front of Fighting Top
Have you ever wondered how sailors lived aboard ship during the Revolutionary War? What about during the Civil War, or World War II? Come to the National Museum of the United States Navy, in front of the Fighting Top, and see some of the personal items like those that sailors would have used during their time in the Navy.

September 18, 12 P.M.-1 P.M.
National Museum of the United States Navy
Building 76, Washington Navy Yard, DC
Museum Education Center
Ryan D. Wadle, Associate Professor from Air University at Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama, discusses the integrating of military policy and strategy with the history of American culture and politics. Selling Sea Power offers a unique look at the complex links between the evolution of the art and industry of persuasion, examining the growth of the modern U.S. Navy, as well as the connections between the workings of communications and public relations and the command of military and political power.

September 19, 10 A.M.-12 P.M.
Walking Tour of the Washington Navy Yard
National Museum of the United States Navy
Building 76, Washington Navy Yard, DC
Don’t miss this opportunity for a tour of some of the Washington Navy Yard and to learn some of its interesting history. The tour is limited to 10 people, and you must be registered. For more information, contact Director of Education Thomas Frezza at Thomas.Frezza@navy.mil.

September 24-26, 12 P.M.-1 P.M.
Fly Navy – To the Moon! Gallery Lecture Series
National Museum of the United States Navy
Building 76, Washington Navy Yard, DC
This special three day, one hour lunchtime event focuses on the art, history and artifacts of our newest exhibit Fly Navy – To the Moon! Gale Munroe, Navy Art Gallery curator, kicks off this event with a tour of the exhibit’s artwork on Tuesday. Historian Gordon Calhoun discusses the history of the Navy’s Space program involvement on Wednesday, and Collections Manager Wes Schwenk discusses the unique artifacts that help tell this amazing part of Navy history on Thursday.

26 September, 9 A.M.-11:30 A.M.
Navy STEAM Day: Trajectory!
National Museum of the United States Navy
Home school students and families are invited to a morning of hands-on science in coordination with our exhibit “Fly Navy! To the Moon! The theme for this morning will be “Trajectory!” Families will be able to design and launch a straw rocket in the museum, and will try to hit several targets. After that, they can head over to the exhibit and join in with the Gallery Talk. For more information, please call our Director of Education, 202-433-4995.