3. Narrative. Following an upkeep period and a short refresher training sea period ALEXANDRIA entered Electric Boat shipyard in Groton, CT for Post Shakedown Availability (PSA). Major work to ALEXANDRIA included Special Hull Treatment, Duplex Cyclic Brine System, Artic Capability modifications and significant radio upgrades. Following post PSA sea trials a change of command took place on 14 Aug 92, in which CDR Lee O. Moss relieved CDR Paul E. Normand.

The ship then got underway for various services in the Atlantic Underwater test Center (AUTEC). Stops were made in Port Canaveral, FL, Norfolk, VA, and Annapolis, MD. The transit from Norfolk to Annapolis included VIP'S from one of the ship's namesake cities Alexandria, VA. The transit from Annapolis to Groton was conducted as a Tiger cruise, which included family members of the crew.

Following an upkeep period, the ship conducted refresher training in local operating areas, with the year ending in a holiday standown in home port.
