USS AVENGER (MCM 1)

Narrative

AVENGER started 2003 in a maintenance and inspection cycle in preparation for the upcoming INSURV and Underway Demonstration inspections. The preparation for the inspection cycle occupied AVENGER's crew for most of the month of January. In February, AVENGER underwent TSTA I and II engineering assessments. Before the INSURV inspection, the crew went on a quick stand down in March in reward for their hard work. In April, AVENGER performed additional preparation for the inspection and from April 21st to the 25th successfully passed the INSURV inspection. From the INSURV inspection came an engineering LTT followed by Underway Demonstration where AVENGER showed her engineering plant power and capabilities.

After the inspections came a reward to AVENGER and her crew with a trip to Pensacola, Florida. Upon completion of the mine hunting and sweeping exercises, AVENGER returned to home in Ingleside, Texas on June 22nd to prepare for a Planned Maintenance Availability. On July 2nd AVENGER transited to Southwest Marine near Ingleside to undergo maintenance for the next eight weeks. Two unplanned transits back to Naval Station Ingleside occurred during the PMA due to two separate hurricane threats.

Immediately following the PMA, AVENGER held her Light-off Assessment to ensure the engines were in good working order from the two months of cold iron. The Light-off Assessment was the start to AVENGER's work-ups for deployment. TSTA 1, 2, and 3 was performed over the next three weeks continuing with the successful completion of the Final Evaluation Period in the first week in October.

The month of November was primarily used for maintenance with the complete engine change out of 2A Main Propulsion Diesel Engine. After the successful run in of the new engine, AVENGER performed a magnetic offload and recalibrated its degaussing system in the Electro-Magnetic Roll Facility.

The year closed out with AVENGER taking part in the GOMEX off the Florida coast in the Gulf of Mexico from December 3rd to December 19th. AVENGER performed mine hunting and minesweeping operations, and took aboard an EOD unit to detonate exercise mines. An unplanned detour to Pascagoula, Mississippi occurred near the end of the exercise to assess damage that occurred to the port shaft.

AVENGER's crew went on leave and holiday stand down upon completion of GOMEX on December 20th and into the beginning of the new year.
