SHIP'S HISTORICAL NARRATIVE

DOLPHIN completed a regular overhaul at Mare Island Naval Shipyard in June 1979. Following the overhaul the ship went north for acoustic trials which were conducted at Fox Island, Washington in July 1979. DOLPHIN's homeport was shifted back to San Diego upon completion of the overhaul.

DOLPHIN returned to San Diego in July and operated for the remainder of the year in support of submarine research projects under the direction of Naval Ocean System Center.
