COMMAND HISTORY
USS JARRETT (FFG 33)
CALENDAR YEAR 1984

USS JARRETT (FFG 33) began calendar year 1984 undergoing Post-Shakedown Availability (PSA) at Todd Pacific Shipyard, San Pedro, California. During this yard period, which began in December 1983, modifications to original contract specifications were performed and INSURV discrepancies were corrected. JARRETT left Todd Shipyard in March and returned to Naval Station, Long Beach, her homeport.

Following PSA, JARRETT was confronted with a wave of inspections beginning with Combat Systems Ship's Qualification (CSSQT), which were held in April. In the ensuing months, JARRETT faced her first Supply Management Inspection (SMI), On-Site Disbursing Audit, 3-M Inspection, and Operational Propulsion Plant Examination (OPPE).

On 1 October, after successfully completing all her inspections, JARRETT commenced a six week IMAV at Naval Station, San Diego. This availability period provided the ship an opportunity to receive necessary maintenance as well as undergo minor alterations. JARRETT completed IMAV in mid-November. The year ended with four weeks of Refresher Training which was coupled with the Varsity Player training exercise.

In summary, the year saw JARRETT complete the metamorphosis from a newly commissioned ship with an inexperienced crew to a combat ready, active part of the fleet preparing for her upcoming deployment in July 1985.

The following time line provides more detailed information concerning specific events which occurred during 1984.
