

■ Brush Counter-Shading System

Designed by George de Forest Brush, the first proponent of countershading camouflage, this scheme darkened raised surfaces that reflected the most light, and lightened shadowy recesses. This reverse coloration was intended to make a ship less apparent to distant observers.